

Centurion High Temperature Neck Cape

Product Images

Description

The Centurion High Temperature Aluminised Neck Cape can be fitted to Centurion Safety Helmets in order to provide additional neck protection - especially suitable in high temperature environments. The Neck Cape is aluminised on one side with a highly reflective film. It is twin layered made from organic needlefelt with a dark green Panox/Aramid working surface and a light green integral lining on FR Rayon

- Conforms to EN 702
- Tear Resistant
- Abrasion resistant
- Thickness of material: 3.50mm
- Weight: 650g/m²