

Honeywell Vertigo PU Coated Gloves

Product Images

Description

Honeywell's Vertigo gloves are coated with polyurethane for enhanced grip whilst also giving good abrasion and tear resistance. The Vertigo gloves high abrasion and tear resistance properties make it the ideal glove for any industrial or automotive work environment

- 100% black polyamide knitted glove
- Knitted technique adds to the gloves dexterity and flexibility, providing enhanced comfort to the wearer
- Tight knit gives the glove perfect support whilst also limiting the penetration of dirt
- Ventilated back and PU coating maximises the gloves breathability properties
- Polyamide and its polyurethane coating provide a good abrasion and tear resistant properties
- Non-piling, the polyester fabric is suitable for precision work
- Silicone-free
- Gauge: 13
- EN420
- EN 388:2016 4X31A